As seen on Bering Sea Gold! If you're a fan of the Discovery channel's popular Bering Sea Gold, then you've seen the Gold Well sluices in action aboard the AU Grabber. Nathan Makowski (brother of Bernie, the inventor of the vortex drop riffle sluice) used the Gold Well sluices on a dredge during the 2013 summer filming season in Nome, Alaska. Performance was exceptional!

No more carpets, matting, or miner's moss to clean up -- 21st century technology has arrived! Sluiceboxes haven't changed much in the last 100+ years... until now. This new, patent pending Gold Well Sluice was designed to recover ultra fine gold that traditional sluice boxes just might be missing. Since the majority of the available gold in the world is micro fine and ultrafine gold in the 30 micron (.0011 inch) range, you want a sluice that can collect that gold and keep it from running out the end.
