These two books are the second and the third book in the series of The Ranger's Apprentice written by John Flanagan. Both books are new and have not been read therefore are in great condition. If you are wanting to learn more about the books, there are some great websites offering a summary of the books. On the other hand, here is a quick sentence or two about both of the booms. The Burning Bridge is the second book in the series and is about Will and his friend Hrace traveling to a neighboring village, only to learn something unpleasant. Lastly, both Will and Horace are possibly the only ones who can save the king's army from danger. Read more to find out how, and if Will and Horace are successful. The second book is called The Icebound Land and is the third book in the series. Here is a little sneak peek. Will is taken hostage and has been put in this frozen land after the battle. In addition, Halt, the master of Will, will do anything to save him. Continue to read and find out what will happen next. The books are five dollars each.
