Hello everyone. I have a Jazzy power chair by Pride I would like to sell. It was purchased 14 months ago and has been a great chair. I am asking half of what it cost new so I am offering a great bargain if you need a dependable chair capable of 450 pounds. Local pickup preferred or you can arrange shipping. Come by and try it yourself.

I have suffered several lengthy hospital stays and several other months that I wasn't able to use it due to ongoing health problems. In all it's only been used about 6 months. During that time I did have both a problem with the batteries not lasting as long as they should have and an issue with the motors. About 5 months ago both were replaced under warranty so it's in very good electrical and mechanical shape. There are no rips in either the seat or arms

This chair has pros and cons. The pros is it's very powerful even at low speed so turning in the house even on carpet is easy. It does have 5 distinct speed limiters to choose from so in wider spaces you can go a lot faster, cruising just under 5 mph. Or you can limit the speed when there's not as much space. It's very stable and handles surface variations smoothly due to the big tires in the middle.

There is a 120 volt power connection with the chair and the total weight of 245 lbs. Because
