It's got a beautiful build quality with an all aluminum body and one of the better laptop keyboards on the market.

This laptop is perfect for students with as it is very slim making it easy to carry around campus and great battery life. Plenty of ports for all your needs, no need for ridiculous "Dongles." It is perfect for those students in the engineering program with the dedicated graphics card, which means it will fly though almost everything you throw at it. Plenty of RAM for all your needs and it can be expanded to 12GB's and another hard drive can be added further expanding storage. Though 512Gb's of storage will be quite enough for any user. The laptop is in near perfect condition. I am an IT student so the laptop has been in very good hands. It has been used for engineering.
