Price: 250.00 $

This is a full-sized trampoline made by Skywalker. We've had it for around four years, but it hasn't seen much use. The bed and springs are in good condition. The spring cover is no longer there, but a replacement can be purchased online for less than $75.00 (check on Overstock.com). I've checked online, and the lowest price you'll find for a new trampoline like this one is $500, with very slow shipping.

Specifications

T-bracket frame construction adds stability and eliminates structural twisting

Patented No-Gap enclosure system interlocks net and jump mat at each spring, eliminating dangerous gaps (Patent #RE45,182)

76 7.64" rust-resistant galvanized steel springs with two different widths for a superior bounce

Springs located on the outside of the enclosure net and covered with thick vinyl coated spring pad

Enclosure poles are positioned away from enclosure net and are foam padded for added
