Anyone interested might want to GOOGLE these two paragraphs:
Knox Stove Works, Knoxville, Tennessee, has been making wood cookstoves since 1911. They introduced their very modern-looking "Mealmaster" wood cookstove to homemakers in 1938. Surprisingly, that stove is still a big seller today, 64 years later. Company owner Joe Anderson says the Mealmaster and the company's other wood stoves have been selling well in recent years. Customers run the gamut, from cabin owners who don't have access to utilities, to people who just want to cut their utility bills.
