Beautiful Edwardian (c.1890) Rosewood "Gentleman's Bureau" available for purchase. We inherited this piece from a family member but it just isn't our style. It is in good condition but does exhibit some signs of expected wear and tear for a piece of this age. The satinwood marquetry is original and in very good condition. This etagere is a lovely example of skilled craftsmanship from a bygone era. This piece is very versatile. It would make for a lovely buffet or display case in a dining room or it makes for an excellent addition in an entryway or even in a study/library.

Original key for drawer included. The top portion does detach so its pretty easy to move. Buyer must coordinate loading and unloading. It is 48w x 62h x 13deep.
